DISCLAIMER I Am in Wall Street Ltd, The Institute of Cosmological Economics & Sacred Science Institute are economic research and educational companies. The information contained herein is for general education purposes and is not intended as specific advice or recommendations to any person or entity. Any reference to a transaction, trade, position, holding, security, market, or level is purely meant to educate readers about possible risks and opportunities in the marketplace and are not meant to imply that any person or entity should take any action whatsoever without first evaluating such action(s) in light of their own situation either on their own or through a professional advisor. The methods presented are not solicitations of any order to buy or sell. If a person or entity does not believe they are qualified to make such decisions, they should seek professional advice. The prices listed are for reference only and are in no way intended to represent an actual trade, entry price or exit price conducted by the Institute of Cosmological Economics, portfolios managed by any entity affiliated with the Institute of Cosmological Economics, or any principal or employee of the Institute of Cosmological Economics, or any of its affiliates. This information is not a substitute for professional advice of any nature, including tax, legal, and financial. While we believe the information contained herein to be accurate, all numbers should be verified by the reader through independent sources. It should not be assumed that the methods, techniques, or indicators presented in these products will be profitable or that they will not result in losses. There is no assurance that the strategies and methods presented in this book will be successful for you. Past results are not necessarily indicative of future performance. Trading securities, options, futures, or any other security involves risk and can result in the immediate and substantial loss of the capital invested. The author, publisher, distributors and all affiliates assume no responsibility for your trading or investment results, and will not be liable for any loss, damage or liability directly or indirectly caused by the usage of this material. There is considerable risk of loss in Futures, Stock and Options trading. You should only use risk capital in all such endeavors. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown. Every reader/recipient is responsible for his or her own investment decisions. The information contained in this report or in any update does not necessarily mean that the Institute of Cosmological Economics, or any portfolio managed by any affiliates of the Institute of Cosmological Economics, or that any employees of the Institute of Cosmological Economics, or its affiliates holds the positions or has conducted the actual trade. At various times the Institute of Cosmological Economics, portfolios managed by affiliates of the Institute of Cosmological Economics, or any other principal or employee of the Institute of Cosmological Economics may own, buy or sell the securities discussed for the purposes of investment or trading.

What is the Annual Bulletin of I Am in Wall Street?

The Annual Bulletin is a study and forecast analysis prepared one year in advance. There are four different Bulletins: S&P500, Cotton, Corn & Soybeans and Live Cattle. The Bulletins come with Updates during the year.

Every Annual Bulletin provides:

- A forecast model based on the PFS (Polarity Factor System);
- A chart with the most important forces during the year, the favorite periods where we should see up pushes or down pushes;
- A comment where we explain what we are expecting to see, with a chart about the next most important levels we are monitoring;
- Regular Updates during the year, usually every 2 or 3 months.

You can download the previous Original Bulletins and Updates on the website: <https://www.iaminwallstreet.com> or contact me directly.

The Bulletin Service includes the Updates during the year:

This is probably the most important part of this Service. Even though people are fascinated by the forecast (often lazy to understand that we cannot work just with a forecast, blindly), we provide ongoing Updates to study the actual Price Map and be able to develop a strategy, according with the expectations we have thanks to the forecast study. You understand that this is not something we can do in December, when we provide the forecast. We may expect an up push in July, but we cannot know in advance where the Market will be on that month, and which strategy or prices we should use. The forecast gives us a general outlook, a clue about what to expect. The forecast may tell, in December 2017, that we are expecting a Low on November 27, 2018. Once November arrives, we pay attention to the Forecast, waiting for a Low around the 27th, and we use the Updates to develop a general strategy, studying the actual pattern of the Market and the Price Map.

The Subscribers receive the Updates every two or three months, usually at the expiration of every Futures Contract, to be able to update the Price Map according to the new Contract.

I do not accept:

When people tell me that the forecast was totally wrong, just because the PFS forecast model does not fit perfectly with the Price Chart, but the Updates I sent out were profitable. Despite I always say the same things every year, there are still people who just pretend to not listen, hoping to see a perfect forecast without working with the Updates. Sometimes, the forecasts are perfect, but sometimes not. We should never expect to see them working perfectly, otherwise why should I send Updates? I provide every year all the Updates of the previous year, with a complete review, to make people understand that the Updates are even more important than the forecast. The forecast is one of the tools I use to plan a trade, but it cannot be the only one. I cannot accept people who complain because they do not want to see a stop-loss order where I actually said to use it, just because they are lazy or greedy. If a trader does not use stop-loss orders, it means he has not understood yet what the reality of trading is, and he still hopes to make money just on forecast calls, and not on precise strategies. For this reason, he should...

Accept the nature of this Service:

I do not cheat, and I always try to be honest, in bad and good things. This service is extremely delicate; we are talking about seeing the future and develop a strategy or analysis that can be wrong. It may happen. My work is based on statistics, even when we use big data, astronomical data, patterns, geometries, everything is based on statistics; we expect to see something working because it has worked in the past. Ordering the Annual Bulletin, you must be aware that statistics does not work all the times. If it works all the times, it is not a statistic anymore but an absolute science; Wall Street would not exist as we know it. What makes the speculation activity a speculation activity is the uncertainty. Do not make the mistake of thinking that you have the certainty of what is going to happen.

If you are ready to accept what I said here, you are ready to work with me.
